Using the Registration Standards Guidelines

The Registration Standards Guidelines for ACT Non-government Schools are intended to provide guidance to schools in determining the type of record keeping they may consider maintaining, to demonstrate compliance with the Registration Standards. The examples of evidence outlined in this document are not intended to be comprehensive or treated as a checklist. The examples are to be used as a guide and should be read in conjunction with the Act and the Regulation.

Evidence may be requested at the time of a registration review or upon request by the Registrar of Non-government Schools — for example, after a concern is raised with the Registrar.

The proprietors of all Non-government Schools in the ACT are either a Catholic system school, or members of the Association of Independent Schools of the ACT (AIS). The Registration Standards Guidelines for ACT Non-government Schools were developed in consultation with the Registration Standards Advisory Board, AIS, and Catholic Education, Archdiocese of Canberra and Goulburn (CECG).

The Registrar recognises that CECG is the proprietor for a large number of Catholic schools registered in the ACT. It is understood that CECG schools will apply common frameworks, policies and resources developed by CECG.
