UPGRADES FOR CANBERRA’S DOG PARKS

Improvements have been rolled out across Canberra’s six dog parks to make these spaces more safe and comfortable for people and their pets.

At Yarralumla there are two new water stations and work has been done to improve ground erosion, repair the fences and the entry enclosure. The O’Connor dog park received 11 new trees to improve shade.

Thanks to the 588 people who provided feedback during consultation earlier this year and helped to identify what works were a priority.

Housing affordability and homelessness are important topics for many Canberrans and we want to hear from you about what more the Government can do.

We’re working on a new housing strategy that will aim to reduce homelessness, strengthen social housing assistance, increase affordable rental options and improve pathways to affordable home ownership.

Suitable and secure housing is an important foundation for full and active participation in our community. Without it, individuals and families may become isolated and excluded and the adverse consequences of this can be long-term and intergenerational.

We want your ideas to help shape our thinking. Visit yoursay.act.gov.au/affordablehousing to have your say.
CBR IS AUSTRALIA’S EDUCATION CAPITAL

Canberra has been ranked in the top 20 student cities in the world. Our city is also home to the top-ranked university in Australia.

Around 64,000 tertiary students are educated in Canberra, including about 14,000 international students and a similar number from interstate. One in six people in Canberra, study or work in tertiary education.

In this year’s Budget, there’s more resourcing to promote Canberra as Australia’s study destination of choice, in partnership with our strong tertiary institutions.

Foster carers come from all backgrounds. Couples, families, LGBTI and all religions and cultures.

Claire says she finds inspiration in the courage and passion of female scientists, such as chemist Rosalind Franklin and astrophysicist Jocelyn Bell.

Local Artists Showcased

Canberra’s light rail artwork has been revealed.

Passengers will be able to enjoy artwork by two talented local artists, Aboriginal elder Uncle Jimmy Williams and artist Hannah Quinlivan. Uncle Jimmy Williams’ artwork will feature on the light rail seat fabric and on new buses. It depicts the flight of the bogong moth, an insect that is culturally significant to the local Ngunnawal People. Hannah’s work (pictured) is a continuous pattern representing human movement. It will feature on the glazed screens at each platform.

New ACT Law Courts Closer to Completion

The ACT Law Courts project continues to take shape with the roof now installed on the Supreme Court building.

Stage one of the project, to be completed in early 2018, includes new courtrooms, chambers, jury facilities, cafe and new dedicated vulnerable witness zones.

Stage two of the project, which focuses on the refurbishment of the existing Supreme Court heritage building, is expected to be completed in late 2018.

CBR NIGHT CREW KEEPING REVELLERS SAFE

The CBR Nightcrew Safe Space sets up near the City Bus Station on Friday and Saturday nights. Volunteers provide advice and assistance for safe transport options, basic first aid, water for hydration, and mobile phone charging, so that revellers can contact friends or arrange a lift home.

The marquee is staffed between 10pm and 4am on Friday and Saturday nights until April 2018.

Community raises funds for the cottage

The Canberra community has raised $100,000 to refurbish The Cottage, an adolescent mental health day program, located on the Calvary Hospital campus at Bruce.

The Cottage aims to reduce the severity of mental health symptoms experienced by young people in Canberra. The refurbishment provides a safer and more welcoming environment for young people to receive treatment, foster life skills, improve at school, and manage social interactions and relationships.

THIS WOMEN’S HEALTH WEEK—FIND TIME FOR YOU
4-8 SEPTEMBER

This Women’s Health Week, mothers, daughters, aunts and sisters are being encouraged to put themselves first and dedicate some time to their health and wellbeing.

If you have any health appointments or matters you’ve put to the side, make this week the time follow up.

The ACT has a dedicated Women’s Health Service offering free nursing, medical, nutrition and counselling to eligible women.

Find out more about these services by searching ‘women’s health’ at health.act.gov.au

IT’S MAGPIE SWOOPING SEASON

Spring is in the air and so are the magpies.

During breeding season magpies may swoop people and animals in the area of their nests. Follow these simple precautions to help avoid being swooped:

> walk through the magpie’s territory quickly, but don’t run > take a different route next time > protect your head with an umbrella, hat or helmet and your eyes with glasses > look towards the magpie > attach flags or streamers on a stick to your backpack or bike.

The ACT Government places warning signs in troublesome areas. Other areas can be reported to Access Canberra on 13 22 81.
